

Why I want to study English in Canada

It is undeniable that English plays a major role in the world today and everyone who wants to succeed in an international scale are unable to avoid it. Many non-native speakers are aware of this fact and looking for the most effective place to continue their English lesson. I am another person who wants to be successful so I look for a perfect place where I can enhance my English skill and have more chance of success. Although there are several places that provide attractive English courses, I choose Canada because of my impression in this country and exceptional benefits which I can gain from an English program here.

Canada always fascinates me because of its stunning scenery and outstanding architecture. With its variety of landscape, I can go for exciting activities that I always dream to do such as skiing, hiking, surfing and more. And the best part is I can do all of them within a day. In addition to the beauty, cities in Canada are also astonishing like a modern marvel. Each of them is deliberately planned to support the growing of population. Structures of public transportation and road network are designed to fulfill all of people need as well as medical service, police and fire station which are located in the most efficient position. As per mentioned, I consider Canada is one of the best places to live.

Besides my personal impression, Canada is also a nice place to study English because their accent is so easy to understand. Therefore, to study English from Canadian should be the best way to tune my tongue to the accent I like. Furthermore, language schools in Canada welcome students from all over the world. I can learn to understand people with different backgrounds and races and adapt myself to an international environment. Also my mindset will be more opened and I will fully become an international person.

Lastly, Canada offers a superior opportunity to practice my English in a real world after a period of study. This is called Work Experience Program (WEP) which allows me to work in a Canadian company for either paid or unpaid job for the same amount of time as I spend in the language program. This gives me an extraordinary benefit as I will have experience working abroad, learn how to use English in a working environment and lessen my cost of study from a paid job.

I strongly believe that Canada will give me a precious experience like no other places. I can learn English from my favorite accent, get to know a lot of friends from many different countries and work in an English speaking environment surrounded by the magnificence of scenery. In a combination of all the reasons above, I can hardly wait to wake up in Canada.
